Insurance & Billing

If you are interested in scheduling an appointment with a Foothills Urogynecology provider, please contact our Scheduling Team at (303) 282-0006.

Health insurance coverage is an important concern in any medical situation. Foothills Urogynecology works with most health plans and is “in-network” for thousands of people. However, if you live outside the state of Colorado these same health plans may determine services at Foothills Urogynecology to be “out of network”.

Contact the Customer Service Department at your health insurance company to find out the details of your policy. They should be able to tell you about your coverage and financial responsibility for your care at Foothills Urogynecology. If you are coming from outside Colorado, please make sure you know your benefits and authorization requirements for non-emergent out patient hospital services outside your home state.

Foothills Urogynecology is an ambulatory physician practice and the providers are employees of the practice. You will most likely be required to pay a specialty physician co-pay. Other co-payments, deductible or co-insurance may apply. You’ll also be responsible to pay additional co-payments, deductibles, co-insurance or fees associated with third party services that we refer you to, such as laboratory services, radiology and other diagnostic services – as well as any additional costs associated with surgical/in-hospital services.

If you have questions about your insurance coverage for your visit to Foothills Urogynecology, the following information may be helpful to you:

- Insurance policies vary and it is important to know the details of your plan.
- If you have questions about your individual plan, please contact your plan directly.
- It is the patient’s responsibility to be generally informed about their insurance coverage, including (but not limited to) deductibles, referrals, authorizations, co-payment, coverage/coverage limitations, patient responsibility, etc.
- It is the patient’s responsibility to make payment arrangements for service rendered by Foothills Urogynecology and other third party facilities (for things like laboratory services, radiology, diagnostic services, surgical costs, surgical assistant fees, anesthesia and hospital care).
- Foothills Urogynecology can assist you in working with your health insurance provider to obtain authorization or approval to be seen at Foothills Urogynecology. It is however, the patient’s responsibility to obtain such authorization and to ensure that such authorization has been attained prior to services being rendered.
- It is a patient’s responsibility to obtain any necessary referrals from your Primary Care Physician and/or Specialist Physician.

Once you have an appointment to be seen at Foothills Urogynecology, our team can work with you, your physician and your health plan about issues related to insurance and billing.
